

Sullivan Brothers Iowa Veterans Museum

Your invitation to be part of the story...

Veterans have so many stories to tell. These men and women of Iowa, ordinary folks, rose to meet extraordinary challenges in war and peace. Iowans gave this service in numbers proportionally larger than most states, a tradition that continues to this day. This new museum located in Waterloo, Iowa will ensure that their stories are collected, preserved and retold for future generations.

"I salute the State of Iowa, and Waterloo in particular, for this Veterans Museum."

- Hayden Fry

The main entrance of the museum will house the Iowa Veterans Memorial Plaza, where monuments with plaques will be displayed. All Iowa veterans who served in war or peace may be honored here with the purchase of a 5" x 2.5" plaque.

Plaques are on sale for $100.

The name of the veteran, branch of military and the dates served will be inscribed on each plaque.

Honor your veteran today by filling out the order form to the right.
